Bobbitt on the 4th of July Celebration at Waynesburg.

WAYNEBURG, July 5th.—The glorious 4th has come and gone and a most glorious day and time of celebration and enjoyment it was. I left Crab Orchard July 3 and went to Junction City. No connection of course, but in complying with the request of the editor, I met Mr. Surber, an old Pulaskian of ante bellum days. He and others promised me a crowded house if I would stay over and speak, but wishing to get to Waynesburg before the great natal day of independence. I embarked on a freight and struck out at a slow pace for Waynesburg, where, after various halts and one pretty long one, stuck in the gloomy vaults in the dreary regions of Pluto in the tunnel, we arrived between 10 and 11 o'clock. We put up at the Gooch Hotel, regaled and treated there by host and hostess like a Nabob in India for two days and nights, and this morning a Bee from the Hive is to drive me over to the depot at Maywood and then I shall soon be at Crab Orchard, nothing preventing.

At Junction City I read law under the thrice Congressman, Hon. Sherrod Williams. There he handed me a large law book, 1,000 pages, and said: "Read that and then come and recite." In three weeks I came back and handed him the book and from memory, recited it verbatim. All this is a Hercules story that will grow to 2,000 pages and two days' reading after I am dead. Nobody seems to be astonished that Williams could sit and listen to me recite a book that it takes months to read.

Now something of that noble Hive of Maccabees: The celebration here was given under the auspices of the Maccabees and Woodmen, and I never attended a gathering anywhere where such good order and propriety prevailed. Not only are the Bees well behaved; but the people are the most orderly, well behaved and christian people I ever saw. No drunken men, no disorderly conduct. Never saw any whiskey nor any man who had seen any or wanted to taste any.

God has blessed these people in their lands and their goods, their houses and their stores, their gardens and their fields. Industry has waved her magic wand over the land and grain and fruit and vegetables have sprung forth intermingled with the fragrant flowers of rural happiness and domestic bliss. Industry and temperance are twin sisters and in their realm prosperity and happiness reign supreme.

The 4th was a decided success in every way; financially and in happy enjoyment. Rev. W. R. Davidson was ever-present, introducing, talking and entertaining. E. Bright, an Ohioan, the talented young Saufley, Judge Warren and little Miss Myrtle Reynolds all made speeches or recited, and M. F. Elkin made the finest speech on the fraternal order of Maccabees to which an audience ever gave attention. Young Saufley's speech, as a classic gem of pearly sentences, has never been excelled. Dick Warren was in his happiest mood and his historical references were beautifully eloquent and sublime. Elkin's speech was so beautiful in diction and in appropriate word painting that I suspected it to have been composed before delivery. Most of the speeches appeared to spring spontaneously from the mental mint, newly coined like Minerva from the brain of Jupiter. At my request, Mr. Elkin traced his order back more than 20 centuries to Judas Maccabeus, who lived 170 years before Christ. While the orators were climbing the golden stairway that connects earth with the imperial realms in the far off blue dome of fancy, I was lost in astonishment at the wonderful powers of the human mind. We are strangely and wonderfully made. 'Tis strange that a harp of a thousand strings will keep in tune so long. The string band from Stanford made music that caused the severed head of Orpheus to sink beneath the waves of Aegean sea without giving it time to mutter the name of his beloved Euridice. Eight of us were regaled at Mrs. Alice Gooch's with a feast that caused the table to creak and groan under its ponderous weight and the table would soon have fallen had it not been for its lightening by eight hungry men. It reminded me of the Gods banqueting with Jupiter on Mount Olympus and queen Juno (Mrs. Gooch) dispensing the nectar which Jupiter sips. At that table sat four ambassadors of the skies, judges in spotless ermine, one-fiftieth of the Lower House of the Kentucky Legislature, ex-officials and next officials of all kinds, and my visions of that can be held under the constitution. On the morning of the 5th I walked over at the dawn of day to old Waynesburg and with tearful eyes and aching heart beheld the ruin that time had wrought. I went to the famous cold spring and mingled my tears of regret with its crystal waters. With choking voice I quoted Tennyson's poem:

"Men may come and men may go but I go on forever."

Men who quenched their thirst here are gone, but the brooklet still goes murmuring on. I saw the spot where 14 years ago I spoke for three hours under the umbrageous oak that towered over the heads of nearly every voter in the precinct, as with the slowly circling shade the audience moved slowly around while the grinding in the speaker's mill went steadily on. With breaking heart I called for Aaron and Pleas Singleton, Isaac and Bowen Camden, Maj. Tuttle, Clark Reynolds, Smith Reynolds, Wash Stephens, H. W. Caldwell, Kit Singleton, my father and Uncle Bob Stuart. The last two attended my speaking there in 1873, but no answering echoes came. All gone to the echoless shore! Even the vandal had felled the old oak under which I spoke, and a utilizing, get-rich age had converted the monarch of the forest into lumber. It would not have been so bad had it been converted into musical instruments. But had I been present I should have exclaimed: "Woodman, spare that tree!" What a glorious thing is the thought of a happy resurrection beyond the dark river of death! For when true hearts be withered and loved ones have gone, Oh who could inhabit this bleak world alone?

Oh, is it not sweet to think hereafter When the spirit leaves this sphere, Love on deathless wings shall waft her To those we long have mourned for here.

Hearts from which 'twas death to sever Eyes this world can never restore, There as warm and bright as ever Shall meet us and be lost no more.

CHURCH MATTERS.

Mayfield is to have a $25,000 Christian church.

At a meeting of the directors of the Baptist Educational Society of Kentucky, in Louisville, it was determined to make an effort to raise $500,000 for the purpose of developing the schools and colleges of that denomination in the State.

Of interest to Sunday school workers: Again we desire to call attention to the county convention that is to be held at Turnersville Christian church Tuesday, July 23. All the Sunday schools in the country will be notified and sent programs for distribution. Each school is urged to send at least one or two delegates, a statistical report and a contribution for the State and county work. This is a matter that should have prompt attention. This is a convention that every Sunday school worker should attend. The duties of parents, pastors, superintendents, teachers and pupils will be discussed by the State worker and others. The addresses will be practical and helpful. Let us make this the best convention ever held in Lincoln county. For program and other particulars, address the county president, L. M. Omer, or the county secretary, J. C. McClary.

Only 82 Years Old.

"I am only 82 years old and don't expect even when I get to be real old to feel that way as long as I can get Electric Bitters," says Mrs. E. H. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. Surely there's nothing else keeps the old as young and makes the weak as strong as this grand tonic medicine. Dyspepsia, torpid liver, inflamed kidneys or chronic constipation are unknown after taking Electric Bitters a reasonable time. Guaranteed by Penny's Drug Store, Stanford, Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard. Price 50c.

George Willman, aged three years, was burned to death in Lexington, his clothes catching fire from a wax taper.

Labor leaders in national affairs are making special efforts to influence the coming Congressional elections and have prepared a "blacklist" of those Representatives who have not cast their votes on the side of labor.

The annual school census of Kentucky as compiled by Superintendent of Public Instruction Fuqua shows that in Kentucky there are 733,331 children of school age. The per capita has not been fixed, but probably will be no less than last year.

After colliding with a Southern Railway passenger train in Memphis, a Southern Railway switch engine with two cars attached dashed wildly without a crew three-quarters of a mile to the Union Depot, where it crashed into two mail cars. Nine men were injured, one seriously.

Nathaniel Jackson, a Negro, aged 23, who was shot through the heart eight weeks ago, has just died in the city hospital at Henderson. Dr. H. W. Edwards, who held a post mortem, took a .32 caliber bullet from the apex of the heart, just under the skin, the bullet having gone almost through that organ.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

During the summer months children are subject to disorders of the bowels which should receive careful attention as soon as the first unnatural looseness of the bowels appears. The best medicine in use for bowel complaint is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as it promptly controls any unnatural looseness of the bowels. For sale by Stanford Drug Co.

Dave Hall, indicted for blockading and whose trial was to have occurred before the special term of the United States District Court, in Ashville, last week, was discharged from custody because his father was near death's door. He hails from Shelton Laurel, is 73 years old, and his father, Alex Shelton, is probably the oldest man in North Carolina, being between 115 and 120 years of age. He is said to be the father of 34 children, all of them boys. The old man has never worn glasses, is not deaf, and is a fine type of the hardy mountaineer.—Exchange.

Twenty Year Battle.

"I was a loser in a 20 year battle with chronic piles and malignant sores, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; which turned the tide, by curing both, till not a trace remains," writes A. M. The sale of 25 of Dignity Dare's get averaged $538.40, and the average age of the lot is two years and 10 months. This is surely a bright star in the crown of laurels won by the equine model of the West End.

A feature worth mentioning in connection with the ball game last week between Hustonville and Yosemite, when the score was 7 to 0, was that only one hit was made off of our phenomenal pitcher, Milton McCormack, whose ability to pitch with either hand any kind of a drop or curve puts him in a class alone.

Mrs. Bettie Craft, aged 77, sister of Mrs. Ann Ashley, aged 86, died at her home near Somerset July 1st, in the morning and at 5 P. M., the same day the elder sister passed into eternity. Mrs. Ashley was the mother of Charles Ashley, of the West End, and was a devout member of the Baptist church. She leaves four sons and three daughters to mourn the loss of one whose place can not be filled. A large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives attended the funeral.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth Melver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at Penny's Drug Store, Stanford, Lyne Bros., Crab Orchard. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

An opinion of the attorney general, concurred in by the auditor, is to the effect that rectifiers are required to pay on all spirits, rectified, adulterated or blended by them, whether it be straight distilled spirits, known as double-stamp spirits or single stamp spirits, thereby producing what is known as single-stamp spirits.

Don't Be Backward.

Do not hesitate to ask for a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. We are glad to give them to anyone who is troubled with biliousness, constipation, or any disorder of the stomach. Many have been permanently cured by their use. Stanford Drug Co.

We are afraid the Atlantic City excursions will be a failure this year, so far as the baldheads are concerned. The city authorities have issued a decree that girls who appear on the beach in white bathing suits must follow the maternal injunction and "not go near the water." Complaints that fair bathers were shocking beach crowds by wearing garments that, when wet, become almost transparent, resulted in the edict going forth.—Frankfort Journal.

HOSPITAL PHYSICIANS SAID:
"IT WOULD DELIGHT US TO FIND SOMETHING TO CURE THIS DEAR OLD SUFFERER."

MR. E. W. ROSE, St. Louis, Mo. RICHMOND, IND., Nov. 20, 1905.
DEAR SIR: The charity patient in whom I am so much interested was seventy-five years old at the time that she began the use of "Zemo," and her weight was 100 lbs. Her health has been poor for some time past, suffering mainly from skin trouble, according to the diagnosis of the doctors in attendance. She has been a hard worker all her life, having made the living for her family keeping boarders. Somewhat over a year ago eczema began to trouble her. It gradually grew worse and worse until her entire body was affected, the legs being a mass of sores constantly separating. The itching and burning sensation was so dreadful at times that it was impossible for her to sleep day or night. The doctors (two of our best) pronounced the case incurable, and when I asked permission to use "Zemo" promptly said, "It would delight us to find something to cure this dear old sufferer." "Zemo" was first used on the upper part of the body and soon relieved the patient of the terrible distress caused by the itching and burning. The doctors had been dressing the legs every day, but as soon as they saw the wonderful change in the skin where "Zemo" had been used, they gave consent to have it used on the legs. Gradually they began to improve and are now almost as smooth as the face. It was probably about a month before much relief was experienced in this part of the body, then skin scaled off, itching, burning and aching gradually ceased. It seems now as if a testimonial might be given, but the patient thinks that she had better use "Zemo" a few weeks longer before saying that she is cured. However, she is very grateful to all who have been instrumental in securing your wonderful remedy and thinks that it has a great future before it. Respectfully,
(MRS.) MARY PERRY BELLIS, Nurse in Hospital, No. 208 N. 8th St.
